COURSE PROCEDURE FOR

Fiction Writing ENG2261 3 Credit Hour

Student Level:

This course is open to students on the college level in the sophomore year.

Catalog Description:

ENG 2261 - FICTION WRITING (3 hrs)

This course is designed to improve the writing skills of students through use of various methods of brainstorming and fiction writing. Critical analysis of writings will be used to aid in developing students' thinking, support of thesis/message, and style. They will learn various techniques in creating, drafting, and revising works of fiction.

Prerequisites:

A grade of C or higher in ENG2260 Creative Writing or instructor approval.

Controlling Purpose:

This course is designed to allow the student to experiment with different types of fiction writing, primarily short stories. Writing is a means of self-expression and a means of communicating emotions, ideas, history, and perception of the world and the human condition. Through writing and the reading of short fiction, the student becomes aware of how to express ideas and truths in a fictional mode.

Learner Outcomes:

Upon completion of this course the student will be able to brainstorm ideas, organize the ideas, and compose fictional works. Various techniques involved in brainstorming of ideas will be learned so that the student knows the methods that work best for him/her.

Units Outcomes and Criterion Based Evaluation Key for Core Content:

The following outline defines the minimum core content not including the final examination period. Instructors may add other material as time allows.

Evaluation Key:

- A = All major and minor goals have been achieved and the achievement level is considerably above the minimum required for doing more advanced work in the same field.
- B = All major goals have been achieved, but the student has failed to achieve some of the less important goals. However, the student has progressed to the point where the goals of work at the next level can be easily achieved.
- C = All major goals have been achieved, but many of the minor goals have not been achieved. In this grade range, the minimum level of proficiency represents a person who has achieved the major goals to the minimum amount of preparation necessary for taking more advanced work in the same field, but without any major handicap of inadequacy in his background.

- D = A few of the major goals have been achieved, but the student's achievement is so limited that he is not well prepared to work at a more advanced level in the same field.
- F = Failing, will be computed in GPA and hours attempted.
- N = No instruction or training in this area.
